DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION

In order to enable us to obtain valid insurance on your behalf, it is your obligation to take reasonable care when answering all questions, honestly and to the best of your knowledge providing us with sufficiently detailed, accurate and complete information to allow us to make full disclosure to the prospective insurers of all circumstances which are material to the proposed insurance or re-insurance. A "Material Circumstance" in this context is the full detailed response to questions which might influence the insurers decision on whether to underwrite the risk at all, or the terms (including premium) upon which they are prepared to underwrite the risk.

The Duty to take reasonable care not to make a misrepresentation of all circumstances material to the insurance arises, not only when the insurance is first taken out, but also on each subsequent renewal or amendment of it and at all other times. It is your obligation to advise us on these occasions of any material change or circumstances in the responses you provided since inception, or the last renewal or amendment to the policy.

Where the terms of your insurance require you to notify your insurers of any increase or alteration in the nature of the risk, bearing in mind the questions asked, it is your obligation to take due care and provide such information to us so that insurers can be notified in accordance with the requirements of your insurance.

All answers or statements on a proposal, claim form or other material document are your responsibility and you should always check the accuracy of the information you provide to us.

QUOTATIONS

When giving you a quotation, we will have taken due care to ensure its accuracy and, at the time of presenting it to you, we will have a reasonable belief that we can place the insurance at the quoted terms. However, we cannot be held responsible if, for whatever reason, the quoting insurer(s) decides to withdraw his quotation prior to our taking it up on your behalf.

In any event, if the insurance is not taken up within seven days of the date of the quotation, you should check with us that it remains valid.

BANK ACCOUNT

We, acting as trustee may use our non-statutory trust account to make advances of credit, to enable a client's premium obligation to be met before we receive the premium from the client. Similarly, we may pay claims and premium refunds to a client from our non-statutory trust account before we receive those monies from the insurance company. Please advise us should you have any queries or objections with the above.

COMPLAINTS

It is always intended that we provide a first class standard of service.

However, if you have any cause for complaint you should, in the first instance, contact the Managing Director of Howe Maxted Group either in writing or by telephone using the contact details overleaf. Please be ready to give your client/policy reference. We have procedures in place to deal with any complaint and details of how we will deal with it are given below.

If we can resolve the matter straight away to your complete satisfaction we will do so. If we think that the complaint should more appropriately be dealt with by another firm we will inform you within five business days that the complaint has been referred to that other firm. (This might be because the complaint is about your insurers or the person who advised you rather than us).

If we cannot resolve your complaint immediately we will write to you and tell you so within five business days of its receipt. We will also tell you the name of the person who is looking into your complaint and when you should expect to have a full reply.

You will normally receive a full response to your complaint within four weeks of making it. If, however, we need longer, we will tell you during the four week period and tell you why we need the extra time.

The written response that we will make to you will either:

Accept the complaint and offer compensation where appropriate, or other form of redress.

or reject the complaint and give full reasons why we are rejecting it.

or be a combination of both of the above.

If you are not happy with our response we will inform you of your right to take your complaint to the Financial Ombudsman Service.

The fact that we have these procedures in place does not affect any other right of action you may have.

FINANCIAL SERVICES COMPENSATION SCHEME (FSCS)

We are covered by the FSCS. You may be entitled to compensation from the scheme if we cannot meet our obligations. This depends on the type of business and the circumstances of the claim.

Insurance advising and arranging is covered for 100% of the first £30,000 and 90% of the next £20,000 so the maximum compensation is £48,000
